LIFE MENACED, SPURGIN SEEKS TO SURRENDER

Guards Mutiny, Hold Him in Mexico.

Warren C. Spurgin, fugitive president of the former Michigan Avenue bank company, who fled to Mexico a few days before the state bank examination closed his institution on July 1921, is reported to be negotiating a chance to return to Chicago to face the music.

Spurgin, according to advices received at El Paso, Tex., from Mexico, broke. He had boasted he would get a fortune out of the rich oil and mining fields of Mexico, return to Chicago and pay his $1,500,000 mortgage dollar for dollar. His mine was "played out" and there is nothing left, according to El Paso reports.

EX-KAISER KILLS FATTENED CALF TO HONOR DAUGHTER

(Copyright, 1923, by New York Times.)

DOORN, Holland, Aug. 5.—The fattened calf was killed yesterday at Doorn on the occasion of the reconciliation of the Hohenzollern family, when the Duke and Duchess of Brunswick arrived from Germany and were warmly welcomed by the ex-emperor and Mrs. Hohenzollern.

The ex-emperor's only daughter, the Duchess of Brunswick, had heretofore refused to recognize her stepmother, who had taken the place of her much loved mother. In view of new developments and the aspirations of the monarchist party, it had been considered highly advisable to have the family united and reconciled. Besides, the ex-emperor is greatly devoted to his daughter.

Other arrivals from Germany include the Prince of Hesse and the Duke of Cumberland, father of the Duke of Brunswick, who arrived in an automobile direct from Vienna.

The Dutch official press continues to deny everything published in the foreign press concerning the Hohenzollerns.

STEEL IN CAR CRUSHES CHICAGO YOUTH TO DEATH

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—

Frank Ballmyre, 424 Van Buren street, Chicago, 18 years old, was found dead in a coal car in the Santa Fe yards in Chicago, near here, today. Willard Gilmore, 4447 Jackson boulevard, 21 years old, was found seriously injured with Ballmyre. Both were riding in a car carrying a load of steel which jammed against them when the train stopped suddenly.

"REMEMBER what happened in that last wreck we had?"

"We picked up the pieces—"

"And the show went on. Well, that's just what's got to happen now. We've got every town plastered from here to the close of the season."

WORKERS BETTER OFF THAN IN 1920

Pay Nearly as High, Cost of Living Lower.

New York, Aug. 5.—(Special.)—Contrary to general belief, the American wage earner in 1923 is better off than during the so-called "peak" period of 1920, according to conclusions reached by the national industrial conference board, as a result of researches into wages and the cost of living in plants employing more than 600,000 men.

As a result of its study, the board finds that the "weighted" or comparative excess of rising wages over rising living costs was between 17 and 18 per cent greater in May, 1923, than in June, 1920, with the figure of the last pre-war month, June, 1914, as a basis.

Compares Wages and Prices.
"For the last month," according to a statement of the board issued yesterday, "wages have been rising. Many plants have announced increases of 10 per cent, 15 per cent and even more. In order to measure the effects of the fluctuations of the cost of living upon earnings, a figure known as 'real' earnings is developed by dividing the index number of hourly or weekly earnings by the index number of the cost of living. Thus by discounting the effect of fluctuations in the cost of living, the purchasing value of money earnings for different periods may be determined."

Cost of Living High in 1920.
"It is generally believed that at the peak of high wages in 1920 the wage earner was in a more advantageous position than he has occupied since that time. It is true that wages were at their highest level in 1920, but the cost of living was also at that time high."

Beginning with the middle of 1922 earnings again began to rise, first as a result of longer hours worked, and later because of increases in wage rates. Wages are fast approaching the peak levels, while the cost of living was considerably below the peak and in consequence 'real' earnings rose well above the former peak figures."

PRISONER DIES LIKE FATHER AS "DOPE" SUICIDE

"Dope" yesterday claimed a second victim in a family when William Doer of 435 South State street committed suicide by hanging himself in his cell in the Evanston police station, supposedly because he had been unable to procure any narcotics for thirty hours.

According to the police, Doer's father, who was a north shore physician, committed suicide eighteen years ago because he had lost his practice on account of excessive use of "dope."

Doer was arrested on Saturday on charges of having robbed several chewing gum machines. Yesterday when a policeman went to the cell with food he found Doer hanging by his belt from the bars. Dr. John N. Gelraus used adrenalin in an attempt to revive him, but it had no effect.

Evanston Dog Bites Two Before Taken by Police
Before a white spaniel dog belonging to George Watson, 1807 Dempster street, Evanston, could be caught yesterday, it had bitten two persons and frightened a number of others. The dog has been kept chained up, but yesterday it broke loose and ran away. It attacked Mrs. August Feilman, 1327 Dodge avenue, then turned on Carl Hanna and bit him. The police captured the dog, which is being examined for rabies.

WHAT COOLIDGE POLICIES ARE IS ONLY GUESSWORK

May Not State Position Until Congress Meets.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Until President Coolidge presents his annual message to congress in December, it is more than likely that his exact position on many public questions will be known only in an indefinite way.

It is indicated that the President will have nothing whatever to say about politics, beyond his original statement that he would carry out the Harding program, until after the funeral of President Harding. There is no definite promise, however, that any statement of his views until the regular session of congress convenes in December. At that time he probably will express his desires in detail on all vital domestic and foreign issues.

Public Addresses Unlikely. The President is not likely to make any public addresses during the next few months and unless congress is convened in special session there will be no actual necessity for a complete expression of his views until the regular session of congress convenes in December. At that time he probably will express his desires in detail on all vital domestic and foreign issues.

Believe His Mind Is Made Up. Undoubtedly his mind is made up on his general policies which will be an essential agreement, subject to various modifications, with those of President Harding. Inasmuch as there is no session of congress in immediate prospect, however, it is probable that he will take his time in working out his program before attempting to express himself in any comprehensive manner. There are a number of subjects of major importance on which the Harding program had been sketched only in a general way and to which President Coolidge must give careful attention. These include questions relative to the railroads, the merchant marine and immigration.

President Harding dealt with the railroad question in his address at Kansas City. He expressed himself in legislation which would stimulate construction of the railroads and also expressed a desire for the strengthening of the authority of the railroad board.

Legal Questions Involved. There are legal questions involved in the matter of compulsory segregation at the railroads and there are all sorts of complications connected with possible amendments of the railroad labor board provision of the transportation act. Any proposal seeking to prevent strikes will arouse the ire of organized labor, and if an amendment to the law is to be framed which will make the labor board a more effective agency in the settlement of wage disputes, it will require more than ordinary shrewdness on the part of the President and his advisers.

Immigration Problem Important. The Harding policy on immigration was in a formative state, although expressions of President Harding indicated that he was opposed to such a relaxation of restrictions as urged by various industries, such as the steel industry, which are in need of common labor. The late President had expressed himself generally in favor of selective immigration, as advocated by Secretary of Labor Davis.

Inasmuch as the Republicans must make their campaign next year on the Coolidge record, and as the new President is known as a good party man, it is expected that he will call into consultation all the influential leaders of the party in working out his program. Friends of Mr. Coolidge say that while he is set in his opinions, he welcomes advice and does not rely entirely on his own judgment. Harding once made to his mind, however, it is anticipated that he will show a flexibility of purpose approaching stubbornness.

GENIUS

Nearly two thousand years have passed since Dionysius, the Greek historian, wrote, "All books of cookery, all commenting notes, are vain if void of genius thou dost cook."

Yet his words still ring true; there are book-taught cooks galore, but it takes a genius to produce the delectable dishes served at CHILDS.

What could be more delightful than a treat prepared by a chef artistically prepared and served?

HOUSE THAT WAS BUILT A CENTURY AGO

Miss Ida M. Wood (at left) and Miss Ethel Alexander stand in front of a house built 100 years ago at Plainfield, Ill. The centennial of the latter town was celebrated yesterday. Despite its age, the house is said to show few of the customary ravages of time.

FOUR WIDOWS OF PRESIDENTS ARE STILL LIVING

Mrs. Harding Joins Three Others.

Mrs. Florence Harding, widow of Warren G. Harding, joining the ranks of President's widows, brings the number of presidential widows still living to four.

Mr. and Mrs. Harding celebrated their thirty-second wedding anniversary while they were on the tour that ended when the President was stricken down.

Mrs. Harding was Miss Florence King of Marion, O., their home town. She was married to the President when he was an obscure figure, on July 8, 1891.

Other widows of presidents are Mrs. Frances Polson Cleveland Preston, Mrs. Benjamin Harrison and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Scott Lord Harrison, widow of Benj. Harrison is the oldest of the President's widows, although she is still far from an aged woman. She was born in 1858, and was twice married. Her first husband, taken in 1881, was Walter Brinkley Dimmick, the son of Samuel B. Dimmick, then attorney general of Pennsylvania. He died in January, 1893.

She did not marry President Harrison, who served from 1893 to 1897, until April 6, 1896, three years after he had retired from the White House. Back again Harrison died March 13, 1901, and Mrs. Harrison did not marry again. She now lives at 157 East 75th street, New York City.

Wedding of Cleveland. Grover Cleveland's widow, Mrs. Preston, was born in 1854. Her father, Oscar Polson, was a law partner of Grover Cleveland before the latter attained the presidency. It was as her father's associate in the law practice that young Frances Polson met Grover Cleveland. She was married while Cleveland was President, on June 2, 1894, the ceremony taking place in the White House and being an historic social event.

Grover Cleveland died on the 24th of June, 1908. His widow on Feb. 10, 1915, was married to Thomas Jex Preston Jr., a manufacturer, and a professor of archeology of Princeton, N. J. Roosevelt's Widow. Theodore Roosevelt was first married to Alice Hathaway Lee, daughter of George Cabot Lee of New York, on Oct. 27, 1880. She died on Feb. 14, 1884. A little more than two years later—Dec. 3, 1886—Roosevelt married Edith Kermit Carow. The ceremony was performed in London, Eng.

Mrs. Roosevelt, as is well known, lives on the Roosevelt estate at Oyster Bay, L. I.

"COL. HOUSE" OF NEW PRESIDENT TELLS HIS ASSETS FOR BIG JOB

Boston, Mass., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Next to President Coolidge, the one Republican who seems most in the political eye just now is Frank W. Stearns, merchant, of this city.

Stearns is referred to as the man who made Coolidge President. Speaking of his friendship for Coolidge, Stearns says:

"As I came to know him I found him splendidly honest. He has been placed in many trying positions where, if there had been a 'yellow' streak in him, it would certainly have come out, but I found he had great courage."

"Among the clever orators, eager reformers and shrewd politicians by whom he is surrounded, he seems to be the one man whose thought and work is all constructive."

"Mr. Coolidge would not take the slightest trouble to push himself. He went right along tending to every day duties as they presented themselves, generally foregoing situations before they developed, quite prepared to meet them, and clearly giving no thought to politics."

Another evening speaker was Col. E. E. Wood, secretary of the Chicago Historical society. All speakers delivered into the early history of the suburb, sometimes called the "mother of Chicago."

TRANSPARENT BATHING SUIT DRAWS CROWD

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] DEPAULVILLE, France, Aug. 5.—A transparent bathing suit of the palest heliotrope made its appearance this afternoon, when this resort was crowded with Americans. Mile. Madeleine, a Parisian magnificence, introduced the new mode and it created such a furore that she had a sizeable crowd around her even in the water. Finally she had to return to her hotel and change the garment before she could continue her bath free from open curiosity.

The suit was a two-piece arrangement of delicate silk. It is doubtful if it will ever become very fashionable in spite of Mile. Madeleine's undoubted success when she demonstrated it this afternoon.

One Man Tells Another "It's the triple blending"

Overnight, practically thousands of discriminating men, tired of the commonplace, have joined in welcoming Blue Boars.

The reason is simple: We took a pedigreed tobacco, a 19 year favorite 'mongst pipe smokers, and instead of merely making it into a new cigarette, we spent 6 years and a fortune in discovering how to super-refine it into a unique, exclusive cigarette.

We blend the eight rare tobacco three times, instead of merely once. That is the difference between the commonplace and the extraordinary.

We ask you to judge—smoke your first pack of Blue Boars—see how triple blending gives you a new appetite, added delight.

HARDING TRIBUTE MARKS FESTIVAL AT PLAINFIELD

Eulogies of President Harding, the "typical American," were given yesterday by speakers at the opening of Plainfield's centennial celebration. Both Mr. Harding and President Calvin Coolidge consumed most of the attention of the day's orators, among whom were W. F. McDermott, editorial writer of the Daily News, and the Rev. Kirk Wadsworth, pastor of Auburn Park Methodist Episcopal church.

At the evening exercises the Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist church of Chicago, recommended full sentences for violators of the liquor laws and declared persons of foreign birth caught in such violations should be deported.

"I also believe the best way to break up reckless auto driving would be to confiscate the cars of offenders," he said.

Another evening speaker was Col. E. E. Wood, secretary of the Chicago Historical society. All speakers delivered into the early history of the suburb, sometimes called the "mother of Chicago."

COOLIDGE TALES SHOW HE THINKS SILENCE IS GOLD

Be Brief, Is His Motto, and He Lives Up to It.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 5.—[Special.]—Not only in the similarity of the sobriquets, "Honest Cal" and "Honest Abe," and in characteristic shyness and reserve, does Calvin Coolidge most resemble Abraham Lincoln of all the Presidents, but in the quiet anecdotes of the sort that always spring up about the personalities of silent men in public life, the new President reminds one of the great emancipator.

Ever since Coolidge started running for public office in Massachusetts the day states have had his favorite "yarns" about his parsimoniousness of language, or how, as some of his admirers have phrased it, "he talks little, but when he does, says much."

Secret of His Meticulous. One of the first stories to be circulated about the President's modesty and his parsimoniousness of speech dates back to his first job in a law office in Northampton after finishing at Amherst. In his last year at college he had won a gold medal offered by the Sons of the American Revolution to students all over the country for the best essay on "The Principles of the American Revolution."

Young Coolidge had said nothing to his employers about winning this medal and he hadn't told them about it. Maybe I had better tell father."

Forty-four Words in This Speech. The inaugural speech of Mr. Coolidge as President of the senate in Massachusetts has been likened to Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The speech is full of brevity.

"Honorable senators—My sincerest thanks to you. Conserve the firm foundations of our institutions. Do your work with the spirit of a soldier in the public service. Be loyal to the commonwealth and to yourselves. And be brief. Above all things—be brief."

A newspaper woman who once went to interview Mr. Coolidge treasures this one: When she arrived at the home she was met by the then Vice President. She told him her mission and he replied: "Go right ahead. She will be glad to see you and to make you at home. Tell her to make you some biscuits."

Above the fireplace in the Coolidge home in Northampton is framed a verse which the President has adopted as his life motto. The verse, which might have come out of a Mother Goose book of jingles, is this:

"A 'wise owl' lived in an oak. The more he saw the less he spoke. The less he spoke the more he heard. Why can't we be like that old bird?"

Cantrill Leads Kentucky Gubernatorial Primaries

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 5.—With twelve counties missing, incomplete official returns in the Democratic primary of yesterday gave J. Campbell Cantrill a lead of 12,500 over Allen A. Barkley, in the race for the gubernatorial nomination. The total vote was extremely light.

All Sects Unite in Voicing Chicago's Tribute to Dead

Chicago and suburban churches of every sect and shade of belief yesterday held impressive memorial services in honor of President Harding. Tributes were paid in various public places to the dead President as peace maker, reformer, and encourager; as a friend and as an advocate of peace and good will; as a plain American citizen who stood to lofty position to meet the needs of his times; and as a kindly leader whose work will endure long after he is buried.

Services were held at the Washington disbursement conference as President Harding's greatest achievement, and one pastor suggested that the name of Alaska be changed to Harding. He said the services held yesterday, there were a number on Saturday in the Jewish places of worship. Memorial prayers were offered in all the Roman Catholic churches. At Holy Name cathedral special memorial services were conducted by Father Mahoney, who spoke of the deeply religious nature of the dead President. He said the strength of character, which the priest declared was enhanced by Christian principles and morality.

Demen Gives Two Addresses. Former Governor Charles S. Demen made the memorial address at Immanuel Baptist church, 2326 South Michigan, where former Judge Jesse Holdom also spoke. In the evening Mr. Demen spoke at special services in the Theburn Methodist Episcopal church at 64th and Paulina streets.

The Rev. N. C. Cline of St. James' Episcopal church at Oak and Huron declared the whole country had grown to love Mr. Harding as a man and to respect him as a leader and director of men. The outstanding feature of Mr. Harding's public career, he declared, was the disarmament conference.

Hundreds of persons heard a memorial sermon by radio during the morning. The service was at St. Christopher's Episcopal church, 1424 North Dearborn parkway, with the Rev. Dr. Norman Hutton and his assistant, the Rev. Howard Paul Pullin, speaking and the parish choir singing under direction of Emory Lyon Gallup.

The Rev. Ralph Marshall Davis of the Hyde Park Presbyterian church, 5390 Blackstone avenue, praised President Harding as a peace maker, reformer and encourager. While not a founder like Washington, nor a savior like Lincoln, his work was that of "a revealer of a bankrupt world who listened to the hollering and dispiriting of doctors who were at the same time creditors."

The congregation of the Third Presbyterian church, 4241 North Dearborn, after listening to a memorial sermon by the Rev. Wilbur O. Carrier, sent a telegram of condolence to Mr. Harding.

A Message in Hearts. A memorial service in honor of President Harding was also held at the twenty-fifth anniversary of the death of Theodore Herzl, regarded as the founder of modern Zionism, was held last night at the First Englishwood congregation, 5741 First.

Counsel Leonard J. Grossman, president of the congregation, and principal speaker, declared President Harding will have an "enduring monument in the hearts of the Jewish people of the whole world," particularly because of his efforts toward the restoration of Jerusalem.

"In the death of President Harding the peoples of all nations have lost a friend and an advocate," said the Rev. J. J. Steffens of St. Matthews Episcopal church, Evanston. "His last utterances evince a longing for peace and good will among men of all classes and races. He has sown the seed of a broad humanitarianism which will bear fruit in the years to come for the good of all mankind."

Rabbi G. George Fox of the South Shore temple, 725 street and Jeffery avenue, opened special services at memorial services held on Saturday. Rabbi Fox was a friend of Mr. and Mrs. Harding.

The Rev. M. F. Boynton, of the Woodlawn Baptist church, University avenue and 52nd St., at memorial services last night urged that since Mr. Harding was the only president ever to visit Alaska while in office, it would be fitting to change the name of Alaska to Harding. He also pointed out that Mr. Harding was the only president who was a member of the Baptist church.

Evanston Pays Tribute. In Evanston Dr. William D. Schermerhorn of Garrett Biblical institute, speaking at the First Methodist church, called Mr. Harding a typical American product, a man of high ideals, magnanimous, gracious toward defeated rivals, leaving the ship of state on an even keel.

United States Marshal Robert Levy has arranged for services for all employees of the Chicago federal building at 10 o'clock this morning in room 603. Judge Adam C. Cliffe, Senator Medill McCormick, and Attorney Quin O'Brien will make addresses.

Whether or not Mrs. Lannard really believed their attitude implied an engagement, it suited her plans to assume that it did. With quick wit she perceived in the situation elements which could be turned to her purpose.

She stepped forward, hands outstretched and a smile of understanding upon her lips. "You don't know how happy this makes me," she murmured, taking Rasher's unresisting hand and passing her arm about her daughter's waist. A moment passed. Then, with dainty kerchief dabbing at her eyes, she turned abruptly and went into her room.

Rasher turned to Muriel, whose eyes were suffused with mirth. "Now see what you've got yourself in for," she smiled. "Mother thinks we are engaged."

"Evidently," said Rasher dryly. "She'll be getting father on long distance to tell him the news. Muriel sank into a chair and threw her head back in a fit of laughter. "O, this is rich—divine!" she cried. "I'll be in the papers tomorrow."

Thoroughly enjoying his discomfiture, she knitted her brows in mock seriousness. "Let's see. I must plan my trousseau. Would you prefer me in ivory satin or charmeuse and silver lace?" Rasher regarded her quizzically.

"I think you'd be a lovely and desirable bride in anything, Muriel, if it weren't for one detail."

"And that—?"

"That we're not in love with each other."

"O, but I'm mad about you!" she exclaimed. "I have quite serious intentions of holding you, now that you have been caught trifling with my young affections."

"I'm afraid it might be embarrassing to have two wives," he said, smiling, "for of course I intend to marry your charming cousin, Mary Brook."

Her lips trembled ever so faintly, but her bantering smile hung bravely on them. "Why, of course you are, Harry. And you will be very happy—as you deserve. You will be a model husband and Mary will preside over your numerous brood like a devoted hen over her chicks. The world of adventure will say good-by to you, and once in a while, at your leisure, you will think of the capricious, wayward Muriel and thank your lucky stars."

She sprang up and lighted a cigarette with nervous fingers. "Don't you worry about mother, Harry. I'll tell her the whole truth and you need never give the matter another thought. Now you must run along and this will be a really and truly good-by. We leave tomorrow morning."

She did not take his hand as he left, having skillfully arranged that both her hands were occupied. For some time after he had gone she sat smoking, her eyes fixed unseeingly before her. The episode had been played out to its end. She sighed and flicked her cigarette into the fireplace.

Her mother was waiting for her when at last she went into her room. "Well?"

"We're off tomorrow, mother—just you and I, dear." Mrs. Lannard pressed her hand sympathetically and no more was said of Rasher.

$9,361,871.12 SPENT BY MEMORIAL IN HONOR OF ROCKEFELLER'S WIFE

New York, Aug. 5.—The Laura Spellman Rockefeller memorial, established in October, 1918, by John D. Rockefeller in memory of his wife, has spent a total of $9,361,871.12 for philanthropic purposes, it is disclosed in the first report of the memorial made public today.

The sum of $1,292,916 was contributed to the American relief administration to aid war sufferers in Europe. An additional $800,000 was spent to transport medical supplies to Russia. For social welfare projects $3,992,501 was expended.

"In order to preserve the resources of the memorial for forward looking experimental work," the report said, "it has been the tendency to diminish gradually its contributions to general budgets for current expenses of social welfare organizations and to make appropriations to special projects which are new and which require a reasonably limited period of time for working out."

recent struggle fought on the European battlefields, and the regaining of Polish independence.

"President Harding was a worthy help to Washington's ideal; this will be remembered in Poland."

BOOKS OF TENT TO BE BROUGHT BEFORE COURT

Jack Lenigan, proprietor of The Tent, a north side cabaret raided recently by police, will be served with a duces tecum subpoena today commanding him to bring into Circuit Judge Swanson's court tomorrow all records of the cafe, Assistant Leonard J. Grossman announced yesterday.

Issuance of the subpoena, Mr. Grossman said, would come as a result of action begun by Lenigan before Judge Rush last week in an effort to prevent the city from "interfering" with operation of his cafe because of an alleged lack by Lenigan of a dancing license.

"Lenigan has claimed he has spent over $50,000 in advertising his place and makes veiled statements about paying money to politicians," said Mr. Grossman. "Perhaps his records will reveal just what he has been doing."

Senator Cummins Urges One Term Only for Presidents

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

A federal amendment limiting future presidents to one term was advocated here yesterday by Senator Albert B. Cummins (Rep., Ia.), president pro tem of the United States senate.

Senator Cummins was en route to Washington to aid in preparations for President Harding's funeral. He was accompanied by Charles A. Rawson, who was junior senator from Iowa during the short interim between the resignation of William S. Kenyon and the election of Smith W. Brookhart.

One Term Enough.
"Of course, President Harding would have been reelected had he lived," Senator Cummins said, "but I always have believed one term is enough. The great responsibilities and the tremendous strain of the office are more than any man can stand. The President of the United States is required to exert himself almost beyond the bounds of human limitations. His cares and worries break him down. Human frailties are too great to stand the strain which the presidency places on a man. We should limit the President to one term. It might be made a six year term, but I am not so sure about that even."

"Our theory of government that the President should be the chief executive of the nation has been extended to make him the political leader of his party. President Harding gave his life to his country and party. His death only proves the magnitude of the position. He was so conscientious and yet so human that it hurt him to hear criticisms of his efforts and false presentations of his motives and the things he had in mind."

New Problem for G. O. P.
One of the big problems confronting the Republican party in selecting a presidential candidate is in determining the type of man to be nominated, Senator Cummins said.

"That question was not in dispute in 1920," he declared. "It was known definitely what type the nation needed then and that type was personified in Harding. We will have a harder or more candidate next year. What type of man do we need?"

Wisdom and propriety demand alliance on the question at this time, Senator Cummins believed.

"We must recover first from this terrible shock," he said. "But our next convention will be a hotly contested one. The next session of congress will be tremendously important. Every Session is Double."

"If President Coolidge adopts the Harding policies there will be no extra session. I know that President Harding had decided definitely that conditions at this time do not warrant a special session. The wheel and coal problems are pressing and vital, but there has been no crystallized opinion for relief for the wheat farmer or in the coal situation."

"If Mr. Cummins' colleague from Iowa, Senator Brookhart, who was most loud and insistent in demands on the late President to call a special session."

Senator Cummins, because of the vacancy in the vice presidency, will preside over all sessions of the senate in the next congress. Like politics, he discussed legislation only in the most general way.

GERMAN PARTY URGES REAL TAX TO PAY ALLIES

Demands Settlement of Reparations.

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Social Democratic party in the Reichstag after discussion of the party's program yesterday, passed resolutions regarding the threatened collapse in the internal and external policy of Germany as primarily due to the passivity of the nation. It calls for the greatest activity in the realm of foreign policy, with a view to arriving at a definite understanding regarding reparations, while at the same time maintaining the unity of the republic, the preservation of the Rhineland for the nation and the liberation of the Ruhr.

The party put itself on record as considering that the vigorous prevention of acts of sabotage and of possible acts of arms by illegal organizations was an urgent requirement in domestic policy and an absolute necessity in connection with the nation's foreign policy.

The resolutions declared that reparations must be met by the taxation of material values.

A motion in favor of expressing lack of confidence in the Cuno government was rejected.

SLAPS AT BRITAIN

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1923, by The Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, Aug. 5.—Adding its bit towards a rupture with England, the semi-official newspaper, the Temps, declares this evening: "We must not give the English government or English opinion the wholly incorrect impression that we are their help, ally, or friend of their decisions, or are pressing them to take part in this question."

Premier Poincaré's reply to Lord Curzon showed the premier believed that the British foreign minister was obviously complicating an essentially simple situation.

"If we have had to begin again, so many times during the past three years the fault lies entirely with the British government," the Temps says.

"Forced France into Ruhr."

The Temps declares "England's personal opposition and policy of favoring the allies and friends of privileged Germany forced France to occupy the Ruhr."

After various statements cited as proof that England forced the occupation, the subsidized newspaper declares that whatever the British government does now is unimportant save on one point—the demands of England upon Germany must be stated or a settlement will never be possible.

"If the British government really wants the right to speak in this problem, let them say what they want from Germany," the editorial says.

1,000 Deeds Rhine Republic.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
DUSSELDORF, Aug. 5.—The movement for a republic in the Rhineland is growing slowly but surely throughout the occupied region.

After last Sunday's meeting at Coblenz, where 1,000 persons declared themselves in favor of a republic, Dusseldorf today was the scene of another manifestation at which 1,000 were present.

The Rhineland separatist newspaper, "Das Freie Rheinland," appeared here today. The French federalist itself denies all knowledge of this paper, although it is the German belief that it was founded and is published by the French.

N. Y. SOCIALISTS RESENT ATTACK ON MR. COOLIDGE

New York, Aug. 5.—A city convention of the Socialist party of New York nearly broke up in a riot today when a resolution denouncing President Calvin Coolidge as a "reactionary and a foe to labor" was read by William Karlson of the resolutions committee.

All over the convention hall delegates leaped to their feet with violent protests against the spirit of the resolution and the terms in which it was couched.

"Kill it. Kill it," resounded from the auditorium, and order was not restored until the chairman had ordered the resolution back in committee for revision. It was not presented again.

GERMANY FORMS 'MINUTE MEN' TO PROTECT NATION

Corps to Run Utilities if Tied Up by Strikes.

BERLIN, Aug. 5.—(By United News.)—While discussion continues to accompany the fall of the mark, Germany is mobilizing her man power to run the national utilities should strikes threaten dangerous stoppage of industry.

The organization of the "technical reserve corps" by the government has created an organization ready to "carry on" whenever a strike crisis looms. In the hectic days of the last week week-ends, especially from the middle classes have poured in by the hundreds.

These technical "minute men" composed of thousands of students in the technical high schools throughout Germany, skilled workers of all trades and stable citizens, who declare they will not see the national interests of the country endangered, are organized as the "technische nothilfe"—meaning technical emergency aid.

Not Just Strikebreakers.
These men do not regard themselves as ordinary strikebreakers. They do not mix in except on occasions when strikes threaten to tie up public utilities which would endanger public safety.

The organization draws its members from and is ready to go to all parts of Germany. It gets its money from the government and from big industrial firms. All that is necessary to mobilize this industrial army is to issue postcards which serve as a call to duty.

During the time the members are actually at work they are paid both by the "Nothilfe" and the man for whom they are working. They are also provided with food, if necessary, and given free life insurance.

Each Man Has Special Job.

The organization is divided into small groups with designated leaders and is informed from time to time about necessary technical knowledge of gas works, water works and electric works, every man having his particular place in case of strike. There is no exclusive tendency in this organization. Every man who wants to join is permitted to apply and is usually accepted.

"We have only the public interest in mind," a member said. "We do not wish to be considered as ordinary strikebreakers, because that is not our purpose. When public safety is endangered by railroad strikes it is our duty to move trains, loaded with food, to the places where hunger threatens. Our men are willing to act as ordinary laborers, loading perishable foodstuffs, such as potatoes, into trains and ships so that they will not spoil."

Plasterers Quit Because $119 Week Wages Refused

New York, Aug. 5.—The dearth of plasterers here has sent their wages up from $15 to $14 a day, says Christian G. Norman, chairman of the board of governors of the Building Trades Employers' association. Still dissatisfied, Mr. Norman declared, plasterers on several jobs have quit because they were not permitted to earn $119 a week by overtime and Sunday work.

FOUR MORE DIE WHILE 300 SPEED INTO POLICE NET

Driver Views Woman He Killed, Then Flees.

With two automobile deaths in Chicago and two in the suburbs, city and county officials yesterday seized nearly 400 persons in their campaign against speeding.

Mrs. Catherine Darr, 31 years old, of 381 East 38th street, was fatally injured late at night when struck by a speeding automobile while crossing a boulevard at 38th street. She was taken to the South Side hospital by Dr. W. E. Grant of 5660 South Main street, and died while on the operating table.

According to scores of witnesses, the driver of the car stopped and examined the woman, then got into his car and drove away.

Woman Also in Car.
One witness obtained the license number of the car, which, according to records in the vehicle bureau, was owned by Homer Messmore of Collins.

A man and a woman are said to have been in the car. The second Chicago death was that of Frank S. Trainor of 6248 Drexel avenue, who was injured last Friday when his automobile overturned after striking a pole on 71st street near Blackhawk avenue.

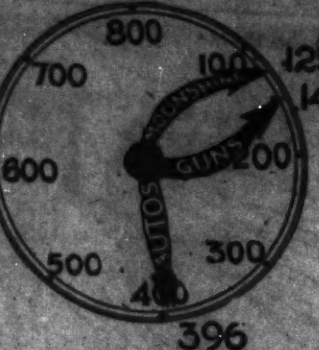

Edward Dethorne, 17 years old, of Waukegan died in a Kenosha hospital shortly after a dairy truck he was driving was demolished by a Chicago and Northwestern train at Camp Logan.

Road Curve Brings Death.
Attempts to negotiate a dangerous curve at high speed while driving near Waukegan on Saturday night proved fatal for Charles Anderson of 3114 Davis terrace, Chicago. The car, a turtle and Anderson sustained a skull fracture from which he died before medical aid could reach him.

A Lake county coroner's jury decided he was a victim of reckless driving. Julius Breitenstein, in the car with Anderson, sustained several broken ribs and cuts about the head.

Motorcycle policemen spent a busy twenty-four hours scurrying about the boulevards and over the country highways alert for speeders and intoxicated drivers. Nearly 400 defendants will face judges and justices of the peace today and try to explain themselves out of fines or jail sentences.

A special reinforcement of forty men was put on duty yesterday afternoon by the city motorcycle division to displace a score who were tired out after the Saturday night and early Sunday patrolling.

Sergeants Are Adherent.

Police desk sergeants showed a determination to adhere rigidly to Chief Collins' orders to lock up all offenders until proper bail should be procured. Many excuses were offered, but the sergeants were adamant. Telephone calls were kept buzzing all day long at the stations by prisoners attempting to raise bonds.

James Littman, 27 South State street, was held by the central police after his car had injured William K. De Koven, 4007 North Kimball avenue, at Clark and Adams streets.

The first woman to be arrested under the new order was Mrs. Stella Hottinger, vice president of the Hottinger Drug and Truss company, 501 Milwaukee avenue, who lives at 1310 Greenville avenue. Mrs. Hottinger was held at the Sumnerdale station until she had provided bail.

Wesley Knox, 74 years old, of 804 Hinman avenue, Evanston, unsuccessfully attempted to avoid arrest on Ridge avenue by saying he "just had to catch a train."

Manufacturers in Net.
Others held by the Rogers Park police on speeding charges were Harry Lieberman, manufacturer, Cooper-Carlton hotel; Clarence P. Barnett, ice cream manufacturer, 1571 Maple avenue, Evanston; and Dr. Henry J. Plans, 2155 South Halstead street.

Leo Brown, 3249 Roosevelt road, and John Lawrenco, 620 Addison street, were arrested on charges of speeding on Michigan avenue.

Four colored persons were injured and traffic in Michigan avenue near the Weisley building was blocked when two machines collided. The injured, three women and the man, were taken to St. Luke's hospital.

Traffic Policemen Hurt.
William Guster, a Glenview traffic policeman, is in St. Francis hospital suffering from concussion of the brain as a result of being struck by an auto on the Waukegan road at Glenview. The motorist is in the Glenview jail.

South Chicago police are looking for a "runaway" automobile driver whose car injured Stanley Manaki, 1 years old, of 6124 Buffalo avenue. According to witnesses, the driver stopped and looked at the boy, then fled.

Elaine Jones, 4 years old, 11409 Forest avenue, sustained a skull fracture and internal injuries when struck by a automobile while playing in the street. The driver, Peter C. Sander, 3708 Wentworth avenue, is being held.

'Chernovets,' Russia's New Money, Shows Stability

MOSCOW, Aug. 5.—While the Soviet ruble still is rapidly depreciating, the bank notes secured by the state bank, known as chernovets, maintain their stabilized value. During the last month the chernovets doubled the nominal value of the ruble and outpaced the pound sterling. The amount of chernovets in circulation was raised in July by an additional 4,000,000, making a total of 11,500,000, which are now guaranteed, sixty per cent by gold and foreign currency and the remainder by bank securities.

Sable squirrel adds an interesting note to this bronze caracul coat, pictured at left. Highest art is displayed in maintaining the becoming slim silhouette while making concessions to the ultra fashionable flare by means of a loose back panel effect.

Fawn Caracul Coat

Trim shoulders mark with unusual distinction the fawn colored caracul coat on the right. Cocoa fox fur forms collar and cuffs, and bandings of the same rich fur on the bottom give a modish flare to an otherwise straightline coat.

Fur pelts, rendered rich and supple as nature's provision against the rigors of the Russian climate, have been carefully selected to create Leschin caracul coats. Caracul, with its lustrous quality, particularly adapts itself to the varying tones of Brown—the season's authorized color in furs. Another highlight of this season's furs is the importance given to linings, which contribute a truly regal air to these luxurious garments.

RESTRICT, BUT WHY MISTREAT IMMIGRATION?

Commissioner Curran, in charge of Ellis Island, says that the shrewdness and cruelty of the present methods of handling immigration convince him that the state department must undertake to control it at the source.

The humanity and wisdom of that was apparent before restriction, and restriction is an additional reason. We endeavored to prevent the bringing over of people entitled for entrance by penalizing the steamship company with the return of the rejected applicants, but that was no aid to the unfortunate who came over and had to go back.

Now the steamship companies cannot tell whether their ships and passengers will get to Ellis Island within the quota period or not, and the plight of people just late in arrival. Ellis Island can accommodate 3,000 persons a day for inspection. Ships racing to get in may bring many times that number in a day. Hardship results, and the British particularly protest.

American treatment of British subjects is a question frequently raised in parliament, and we do not see what good it does to have friendly relations constantly strained by methods which could be avoided. It ought to be entirely practical to arrange methods at the source of immigration which would give a passport visa to a person whose qualifications to enter have been ascertained to a virtual certainty. Then the immigrant would not tear himself loose from all native ties and attachments and means of livelihood until he knew that his reception in a new land was virtually assured. The cruelty of deportations could be avoided. The permitted immigration could flow in smoothly and Americans would not appear as a tribe of Iroquois making newcomers run the gauntlet.

It is necessary to our national well being and our development as a real nation that immigration be both restricted and selected. Two nations are not an internationalist, but it is international enough to think that a nation does well to treat other peoples with consideration, courtesy, and humanity.

In many ways the United States contrives to be hostile, unfriendly, and even to seem malevolent. We get the reputation of being bad neighbors, and that does not represent the real spirit of the people at all. It is worth while taking some pains to correct methods of dealing with other peoples. It will not do us any harm in our international relations and it may prevent the growth of a spirit of bitterness which makes adjustment of serious international questions more difficult when they arise.

THE GOOD FAITH OF GOVERNMENTS.

Leonid Krasin, commissar of foreign commerce in the soviet government, is reported from Moscow to deny that Russia will acknowledge the foreign debt of the czarist government. He says that it is too high a price to pay for diplomatic recognition.

It is too high a price if recognition may be obtained without it and productive relations follow in its wake. It is too high a price if western democracy and capitalist society are going to collapse and be succeeded by bolshevik principles and methods. But it is certainly not too high a price if settling society and the principles sustaining it survive.

That should be apparent to Krasin, who is reported to be a fairly practical man, and who is inclined to think his statement is either domestic policy for the benefit of communist fanatics or the tactic of diplomatic trade. In either case it ought to affect the American policy, which is founded on the conviction that the sanctity of contracts is essential to our modern society and to the relations between men or nations.

To accept the soviet theory as to the commitments of the czarist government would be to invite any nation or any group of politicians in control of its affairs to repudiate important obligations by changing the government which had given the pledge and received the benefit. The soviet theory is that the czarist government was a tyranny imposed upon the Russian people, and that, not being their agent, its pledges do not bind them. But that is an argument that could be urged by any successor of the present regime, which in theory does not wish to pretend to be representative of all the Russian people, but the dictatorship of a class.

The contention that the same was true of the czarist government for centuries.

If Krasin and his associates had any disposition to argue fairly, they could not but concede that the soviet theory would throw every government's pledge into a million degrees of doubt and no nation or individual could afford to extend credit or carry on anything but cash or barter dealings with such either. It is a theory that makes credit between nations impossible. When bolshevism has destroyed all nations it may work, if anything works.

SINGAPORE-HAWAII

Lord Bessy and the experts of the admiralty have won for their plans to maintain a great naval base at Singapore. The expenditure proposed is estimated at some $55,000,000 over a period of ten years. But the first two years' allotment is not expected to be more than a million dollars annually.

The development of this base has been objected to on various grounds. Col. Repington, for example, objected on strategic and other grounds, insisting that the great base should be in Australia, that the Singapore site was not readily defensible from land attack and required a very large expense for dredging, harbor work, etc.

Another objection came from labor and liberal critics, who asserted that it violated the spirit of the Washington treaty. The status quo is fixed at Hongkong and all British territory east of the meridian 110 degrees east longitude by article XIX of the treaty. But Singapore is six degrees, or some 400 nautical miles, outside this area. The objection is a characteristic piece of pacifistic logic. We are familiar with this mentality in our country, where the affliction is much worse. England's situation and experience are such as to discourage the disposition to resolve all questions in defense against her own safety. Only in the United States is there a considerable body of opinion which habitually does that.

Of course, in the case of Singapore the line agreed upon in the treaty was deliberately selected to exclude Singapore. It was not chosen with a view to board or by blinding a child and giving him a pair of compasses. Only a pacifist would venture upon an objection on this score.

Another objection was that the Washington conference provides for peace for ten years and it is unwise to spend a great sum on a base which, in circumstances ten years hence, may not be useful. That also is a line of reasoning with which we are familiar. It would prevent virtually any preparedness. Conditions are always changing. The future can never be opened to us. We must do the best we can to prepare for such contingencies as reason finds within the probabilities or possibilities.

The value of a great base at Singapore seems pretty evident even to the civilian. It dominates the passage to or from China and Japan, the Philippines and Australia. It covers the approach to India from the east and hanks advance upon Australia from the north. A great naval force at this point could strike in all directions.

If British interests are to be maintained in the east and the Australians are not to be left to their own fate, Singapore is essential. Meanwhile, as our readers scan the map of this vast region, which is certain to be in due time the arena of great events, may we suggest they take a look at the Hawaiian Islands and their relations to the American continent? If the British find reason to spend fifty millions for a base at Singapore, the American people have greater reason to spend whatever millions are needed to make the Hawaiian Islands a Gibraltar. For Pearl Harbor is home defense. It is the irreducible minimum of defense in any intelligent policy. In the hands of an enemy it would be the secure footing for practicable invasion. While we hold it with necessary naval adjuncts, no invasion of our shores would be attempted. It is the most important base in the Pacific. If we have any foresight we shall lose no time in making it impregnable—absolutely impregnable. If we start right now the work will hardly be accomplished before the remaining nine years of the treaty are passed.

Well, I leave her, as Mr. Ryan intimated, to be a crown-princess!

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

EPICURAM ON PAIN AND JOY
Pain and death by God are given:
Sold and craven at His bidding,
Prone upon this mortal shiver,
Rise in death for Heaven's hiding.

Time and strength must bear the rusting—
Soon will come a page of smiting:
There will be the greatest lusting . . .
You must come, to day of parting.

Self disdain, and bear your burden—
Live as men who love the living!
Pain is worth the Heavenly gerdun:
Joy is but the simple giving.

CHARLY DITE.

MR. LUEDER, the Postmaster, importunes his clients to let him know of any act of attention or courtesy encountered in his part of the Federal Building; so, being of his clients, we forthwith do so. We strolled through at 1:45 a. m. yesterday, and asked a policeman in the rounds where we might buy stamps. "Over there," he replied, "courteously, pointing, and his point, too, was courteous: 'Over there, in the Great Northern Hotel, or some place like that. You can't get any here.'"

AND we went to the hotel, and got them, and returned to the Postoffice to drop the letter, which seemed to be possible, although it was by then 2:45 a. m. And, as we went to-and-fro, we eluded heartily with admiration of the progress made since the simple, inefficient morning when, at 1:45, we bought stamps in the postoffice of Johnstown (near Glenview, N.Y.). And that was a bare fifteen years ago!

WE were able, in a crude day, to buy stamps all night through in Philadelphia. We recall a patient, Kaiser-ridden gentleman selling briefs, marked to us at 1:45 a. m. in Dinseldorf (or Trop Mount, as it is named on the new Poincaré map). We meet pityingly at the backwaters of Italy, too, for once, at 1:45 a. m., we bought a francobollo in Cremona. Doubtless, Mussolini, a true progressive, will stop that medieval nonsense, just as he has stopped the newspapers from being fresh.

BUT we're rambling! We just wish for Mr. Lueder to know that we read the signs about reporting currency, et-cetera; for we helped hold his job for him last Spring; not that we voted for Mr. Dever, but that we didn't vote for Mr. Lueder, thereby cutting down the chances of his having to stop being Postmaster. And we think he ought to know how courteous the policeman was in telling us where we might buy stamps at 1:45 a. m. yesterday. . . . It is useful hint to readers of The Tribune, too: the Great Northern Hotel, or some place like that.

Yah! What about Sally?
"She's engaged." "Is a girl this time, I guess; because she's got her ring; emerald-cut diamond. Oh, it's tops! In 'easy three carats big!"
"Huh! Pretty big!"

"Y—es; but, then, you know, Sally's a pretty girl, and she can carry it off all right."
"Maybe she can." "Say, listen here: lemme tell you something! There ain't a thing to this Platonic love—not a thing! It's got to be the one thing or the other—straight out!"
"Yes; you've said it! Today said it!"

SPEEDWELL SYSTEM FOR BABIES.

H. D. CHAPIN is against infant asylums, founding hospitals, and even infant and children's hospitals, except as refuges of emergency—collecting stations, you might call them. His plan is to set the babies who are without proper homes into a home operated under what he calls the Speedwell system. The Speedwell system is worked in the following manner: An investigator goes into the country near the center of population to be served, and finds a dozen to fifteen homes within a radius of five miles. Other essentials are: A good neighborhood, homes willing to take the child, the woman who cares for the child, and can show healthy children of their own to prove it. They must be willing to learn. When Chapin finds these essentials he is willing to overlook a moderate amount of dirt and disorder in the home.

Having selected a district, he picks out a board of local lady managers, who act as field inspectors. The district having been selected, the managers appoint a nurse, and the physician holds some meetings to discuss standard methods of baby care. One basis used is a safe milk supply. All this having been arranged, the sending of babies is begun. The woman who cares for one or more babies is paid an agreed-on price per month for care. The nurse makes the rounds of the homes. The physician seldom visits except when he is called for sickness.

The babies sent to the center are taken from founding homes, infant asylums, and hospitals. They are babies such as are usually found in these institutions as well as babies physicians and nurses send from infant asylums, orphan asylums, and those private physicians find to be doing poorly in the city homes. Originally it was thought that no neighborhood was fit for a Speedwell system except one located in a rural district. Dr. Chapin now holds that such centers can be located in villages, in suburban towns, and even in fairly open parts of cities.

The first center was established thirty years ago, and it has been in continuous operation since. Several other centers were later established in the same general country. The general idea, even down to moderately fine details, was approved by the Carnegie conference. Dr. F. Devine is strongly in favor of the home treatment and care of children as distinguished from institutional care. It cannot be argued that the plan is half-baked.

FAMOUS THICKSTERS.
Chicago, July 31.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Prior to the general issuance of May leaves, a certain landlord in the selection of a new list of tenants to occupy his six flat building verbally promised to rent flats at $60 per month for one year, this agreement to be verified by a lease contract which was to be subsequently issued (the claiming at that time that lease would have to be drawn). On June 1 and July 1 rent was paid as per verbal agreement, the leases, however, if drawn, had not been presented. Now comes landlord's ultimatum: lease effective on Oct. 1, this year, for $75.00 per month, with note attached stating if lease is not signed and returned by Aug. 25, flat will be listed for rent.

Can this increase be legally made prior to any time during the first twelve months as long as the rental price verbally agreed upon and promised to be in-terested in lease is tendered? A. W. H. If the tenants in question were holding under previous yearly lease they probably will be in a position to claim a renewal of the lease.

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.

AN UNGRATEFUL FRIEND.
Chicago, July 31.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I lent a person I thought to be a friend $100, but I have no actual proof of same. Can I collect this, and how? I lent this money to a man who was in an accident, and at the time it happened he was without friends or money. Since that time I have written letters and called him on the telephone, and he has promised to pay, but never has. My friends tell me I cannot collect, as I have nothing to show that I ever lent him the money. Will you please advise me?

Chicago's policewomen put in their first day yesterday. They went home with the evident impression that it isn't necessary to carry revolvers, nightsticks or a pocket full of reg's gallery pictures in order to perform the duty of upholding the statutes. However, there is a lot of work to be done, not least in the line of bloodthirsty, perhaps, but strenuous. The policewomen are going to set out to do it. They will labor along bravely and conscientiously. It appears to be their opinion that a little education will help far more to preserve the peace and dignity of Chicago's citizens than bullets or handcuffs or jails.

It is unusual when stockings of such exquisite sheerness are found to give exceptional service. They are of fine thread silk, very soft and light of weight. The lisle top and reinforced heel, toe and sole increase decidedly their wearing qualities.

As a result of spirited riding in which the judges had difficulty picking the places winners, Edward Sieglar of Lincoln Park Bicyclist club and John Walsh of the Opel A. A. tied for the state bicycle championship in the trials held yesterday morning at Huntwood park. Each scored twelve points in the four events.

In the junior division, Alonso Vereten of the Belgium-American C. C. was easily the class of the field and won the state junior crown by winning the four races for a total of 38 points. F. Plaster of Franklin Park, Ill., and Charles Mitchell, West Frankfort, Ill., and A. C. were second in all races.

To Race Off The

According to the rules of the Amateur Bicycle League of America, Sieglar and Walsh will have to ride a mile scratch race to determine who shall represent Illinois in the national bicycle championships sponsored by the Tribune A. A. to be held in Humboldt park on Sept. 5 and 6. The match race will be held next Sunday and the place will be announced later.

Although all races were close, the one mile scratch brought about the most interesting riding of the trials. Walsh won the event by about three wheel lengths, but Sieglar, Plaster and Walsh were on the finish tape almost at the same instant, and it was with difficulty the judges awarded the second place, he would have won the state championship.

Another Blasted Finish. Walsh captured the one-third mile senior by about two feet from Gregory Plaster of the Marquette Wheelmen. In fact, it was a blasted finish and a wheel length took in the first four finishers.

Sieglar showed the way to the tape in the ten mile scratch. After Charles Mitchell of West Frankfort, Ill., had led the pack for two laps, Sieglar and Plaster let out and took the lead, and the former finished in front, with Plaster on his heels.

Vereten was easily the class of the junior riders. The Belgian rider won every race about as he pleased. Now that the selection of the senior and junior riders is out of the way, plans will be started for the staging of the national championships which will bring to Chicago the pick of the bike experts from forty-one states. The national championships will be staged at the Huntwood park, which will be supervised by the West park commissioners have promised to erect stands at the Huntwood for the benefit of spectators and officials. BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Covey Padgett of Dolores, Colo., and Morris Schaeffer of Omaha, Okla.,

bang welterweights who will trade punches for ten rounds in the main event of Jim Mulien's boxing show at Aurora Thursday night, arrived in Chicago yesterday and will resume training at the Arcade today. The show has been moved forward one day because Friday has been selected as the day for COVEY PADGETT, mauling the late President Warren G. Harding.

Padgett and Schaeffer are eager for the fray. Each has scored a victory over the other and Thursday night's battle will go a long way toward determining which is the better fighter. Ray Alvin, manager of Padgett, has taken his fighter in charge and has selected the best sparring partners available in local gymnasiums.

Schaeffer is in trim. He is in good shape, having met Jimmy Clabby last week at East Chicago. Since that fight, which terminated in a knockout of Clabby in the second round, Morris has engaged in strenuous workouts at home and appears in good shape.

Billy Rolfe of Omaha, who will clash with Title "Kid" Herman of California in one of the eight rounds, came along with the Schaeffer party. Rolfe has scored victories over Johnny Timman and Harvey Thorpe, and has boxed a draw with Schaeffer. He will act as one of Morris's sparring partners. Other fighters on the card will settle down to the last lap of strenuous work tomorrow.

Tickets on Sale Today.
Tickets will be placed on sale today at the usual places. Aurora prices of $2 and $5 will prevail, and special trains will be run over the Aurora and Elgin electric from the West street terminal on Thursday evening.

Tommy O'Brien of Milwaukee matched to meet James Brady of South Chicago in the window of George Owens's show. East Chicago boxing show tonight, is scheduled to resume training at the Arcade today. Brady has already started to work at Kansas City (O'Brien's) gymnasium in South Chicago.

Bob Koss, manager of Sammy Mancini of Rockford, is also on the trail of Bernstein and promoter Jim Mulien is trying to match the pair for the window of his Labor day show at Aurora.

The match between Bud Taylor of Terre Haute and Harry Gordon of New York will be closed this week, according to Eddie Long, manager of Taylor. The bout will be held in Terre Haute on Labor day.

WINNING DIVING CHAMPIONSHIP

ELDER HALVORSEN.
A dive which aided the Chicago Athletic association swimmer in capturing the A. A. U. title at the Edgewater Beach hotel yesterday. Halvorsen's plain front dives went a long way toward putting him ahead of Bob Porter, who finished second.

HALVORSEN RETAINS A. A. U. DIVING TITLE

Elder Halvorsen successfully defended his laurels as Central A. A. U. diving champion yesterday afternoon at the Edgewater Beach hotel's springboard. The C. A. A. U. diver averaged 128.5, while his nearest opponent, Bob Porter of the L. A. C., averaged 123.25. Four judges—William Bachrach, Harry Hazelhurst, W. F. Heyn, and F. W. Hankley—agreed unanimously on Halvorsen's superiority.

Dudley Steel of the Illinois Athletic club ranked third, while Charley Rose, a Cherry Circle flying fish, was the fourth high man.

Halvorsen got off to a great start with his plain front dive, and all of the prescribed leaps went well. His back jackknife and his somersault and spins were perfect, and there was little doubt as to the champ's superiority. Porter's one and a half somersault was a graceful gesture, while Steel did some pretty work with his geyser and twist.

JOIE RAY SETS NEW WORLD RECORD IN TWO-THIRDS MILE RACE

New York, Aug. 5.—Joie Ray of Chicago, star runner for the Illinois A. C., broke the world's record for the two-thirds mile race today when he was timed in 2:42 in a special match race in the New Jersey Y. M. H. A. athletic games.

Ray defeated Lester Austin, Newark, and James Connolly, Georgetown, Ray cut down the record of 2:49.25 held by Melvin Sheppard.

SWIMMER FOURTH OF WAY ACROSS CHANNEL

DOVER, England, Aug. 5.—[United News.]—Henry Sullivan of Lowell, Mass., today began his attempt to swim the English channel at 5:20 p. m.

At 5:40 p. m. he was making excellent progress, two and a half miles from shore, continuing under most favorable conditions. The sea was calm and the temperature of the water was 62 degrees.

Large crowds cheered loudly as Sullivan got away from Dover, heading toward the barely visible French shore.

He used the double trudgeon stroke for the first mile until past the shore currents. Then he used a strong, sweeping breast stroke.

A motor launch and two rowboats accompanied him, carrying supplies of sandwiches, meat extract, coffee, milk, and fruit, as well as being equipped to cook food.

Charles Toth of Boston and Mrs. Clemington Corcoran of New York expect to begin their attempt to swim the channel tomorrow.

MEYERS AND ENGEL TO MEET ON MAT HERE

Johnny Meyers, world's middleweight champion, will defend his title in a finish match against Holms Engel of Dubuque, Ia., in the main event of the evening show to be staged at Midway Garden, 26th street and Cottage Grove avenue, next Monday night. The matches have been arranged by Howard Carr and the show will be conducted under his direction.

In order to get Meyers into the ring with Engel, the champion has been guaranteed $25,000. Johnny has met Engel on previous occasions and has found him the toughest grappler in the division.

A Finish Match.
The match will go to a finish, best two in three falls. Matchmaker Carr wants it understood the main event will start promptly at 10 o'clock and the show will be held out of doors. If it rains, the bouts will be decided indoors.

In the semi-windup, Paul Frein, wrestling instructor at the University of Illinois, will take holds with Jimmy Demetral, local Greek middleweight. Demetral is a scientific grappler who is expected to give the university instructor an interesting match. They will wrestle to a finish best two in three falls.

Jack Reynolds on Card.
Jack Reynolds, claimant of the welterweight championship, will clash with Pete Zbynski in the one fall opener. They have agreed to weigh 145 pounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. This bout will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

Reserved seats will be $2, and $1 general admission. Tickets will be placed on sale at the usual places on Wednesday.

AURORA RACING GETS ACID TEST IN CLOSING WEEK

BY FRENCH LANE.
Thoroughbred racing gets the acid test at Exposition park in Aurora this week.

The lively little city, 33 miles west of Chicago will either establish itself as one of the big time racing centers of the section during the next six days or drop out of the picture.

There is every indication that Aurora has already made good. The attendance during the first week of the meeting conducted by the Fox River Valley Jockey club has been all that was expected. It was much better than looked for on two or three occasions when a little better than the average program was offered.

Final Week to Tell.
But it will take the second and final week of the sport which opens today to determine if this good attendance was merely the result of curiosity or a true indication of the hold thoroughbred racing had taken on the sporting public in that vicinity.

When racing comes back to Chicago the race here is not indicated. It is the hope of officials of the Fox River Valley Jockey club that when dates are awarded, a place in the schedule will be found for both a spring and fall season at Aurora. If that comes about the present half mile oval will be abandoned and a mile track constructed. This, with the other high class surroundings, will put the Aurora place on the same plane with the best tracks of Chicago, and Jockey club officials believe they will draw tremendous crowds from this city.

Hotel Purses Feature Today.
Better filled fields will be in the offering this week, and several feature events will be sandwiched into the program which on a whole should provide more interesting sport than during the experimental stages of the meeting last week. The Aurora Hotel purses is the headliner on today's card and most of the best horses established at the track have been nominated.

One of the big features of the week is booked tomorrow (the Mooncheater handicap for 4 year olds and up at 115 pounds) and a purse of $10,000 is enough to bring out just about the prize band of sprinters at the meeting.

SAN CALLISTO WINS.
Second running up to the date today when nine runs crossed the plate. San Callisto won the Triple A. 18 is 8, in a Chicago Cubs game at Alton park yesterday. Score: San Callisto, 18; Cubs, 8.

Reserve seats will be $2, and $1 general admission. Tickets will be placed on sale at the usual places on Wednesday.

FARM and GARDEN

YES, WE HAVE NO BANANAS.
YES, the United States has bananas, but like "pale" bananas, they are just bananas with more people, and few know that there is a great difference in the various varieties. There is a vast difference in the comparative taste of a Ben Davis and the rich flavor of a Delicious apple, and there is a similar difference in the taste of the imported Jamaica and the Cavendish and the Hart or Ladyfinger bananas of Florida.

Persons with sensitive taste buds usually recognize the superior flavor of the Cavendish or Canary Island banana. The Jamaica or Honduras, common on the fruit stands and grocery stores in this country, has a thicker and tougher skin, and is much better to ship than the Cavendish, which is also grown in Central America and the West Indies, and is the native choice.

While Florida is consuming a fancy flavored banana grown in the state, before long growers here will be producing enough to ship to northern markets. These varieties do not ship well from the land of Jamaica, but the short trip from Florida to the Chicago and other northern markets is expected to be made successfully.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—(Special.)—All affairs of a social nature have been postponed or canceled out of deference to the late chief executive. Diplomats and officials are hurrying back from the various resorts where they have been enjoying brief vacations, but there will be no festivities for some months to come.

Universal sympathy has gone out to Mrs. Harding personally, for she gave as freely of herself during her regime as "first lady" and was ever watchful of the wishes of others. The changes she made in the arrangements for the state functions were always for the greater comfort of her guests and are more than likely to be carried out by Mrs. Coolidge.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Mike Mulligan Is Back in Town

How to Be Happy Though Married

By DORIS BLAKE

Not long ago I received a letter from a minister, begging my pardon for the attitude he has always taken toward newspaper columns in which affairs of the heart are discussed. Frankly, he confessed his eye was arrested by a paragraph at the top of a folded paper which concealed the name of Doris Blake and with consciousness untroubled, read on.

Modesty forbids my reproducing his words of praise for the excellent advice the paragraph disclosed. Enough to say, he wished to congratulate me for the courage to put over in my column a preachment on moral hygiene which he said he had been trying for ten years to deliver from the pulpit.

The average reader, I believe, is ignorant of the serious side of my work as it is presented in letters from people worried, distraught with griefs and woes, with problems they cannot solve and longings unattained. Some of these problems are easily and swiftly solved. Sometimes I am frankly at a loss what to say, how to advise. Even now as I write, a letter is lying face up, staring at me, with a question that is more difficult to answer and infinitely more complex than almost any other I meet. It is not an infrequent query, nor a new story.

That it is one which has a bearing on married happiness, the answers to the Rockefeller questionnaire make obvious. Rather I should speak of its relation to the unhappiness of marriage. I am, for the report of the bureau of social hygiene which sent out the questionnaire proves the misfortune it embodies is one that does militate against marital bliss.

"I am 35," writes Unfortunate. "I am engaged to marry a wonderful man. I have known him nearly two years, and he is the best man in the world. I love him as I never thought I could love anybody."

"Miss Blake, I was engaged once before while in college. To make a foolish story as brief as possible I was foolish. I was not only indiscreet but worse. That was five years ago. I tried to forget it. But looking into the good, true eyes of the man I love, it seems my heart must break with the desire to tell him. He deserves to know, yet I am terribly afraid of losing him if I do. He thinks I am everything that is fine and noble. He has often used just these words. It hurts me frightfully and makes me feel like a criminal."

"If I should tell him and he turned against me, I would simply die, that is all. My wedding day draws near. Please help me."

Several times I have begun a letter to the girl. I have told her to say nothing; the past is her own sorrow; her conscience punishment enough, probably. As I framed the words, wrote and hunched as they sound, I recall a case in my immediate circle of friends. The girl decided to keep her secret to herself and fight it out with redoubled devotion and love for the man she married. Later, he found out, and three

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

"Doris Blake: Will you kindly publish this letter in your column, as I am very anxious to hear other people's opinions on my case."

"Can some one tell me why a fellow who is engaged to a girl likes to try and make her jealous? We all have jealousy born in us, but when one is not inclined to be jealous, why should one's sweetheart try to make them so?"

"Although it might not hurt at first, gradually one weakens under this strain and then it means unhappiness for both parties."

"I am not a girl that is jealous unless sufficient cause is shown. But, recently, sufficient cause has been rendered by the one I love best in this world."

"I stepped out of my path to be sociable to a friend, which was unusual, as I am not generally demonstrative over any one, and my sweetheart objected, and, to even up the score, he does everything to make me jealous because it is his disposition to be so. It not only hurts me, but it makes me unhappy."

"The more a girl goes with a fellow, the less she understands him."

"UNHAPPY SWEETHEART."

Your last sentence made me smile, but just "between us girls," isn't it the surprise they give us that our interest is kept alive? If you were sure of every move and turn, he'd make it wouldn't be so much fun. If you could just keep on ignoring the jealous outbreaks or laugh at them when they happen you could save yourself some anguish. But I guess there just is no such thing as being intensely in love and not suffering some time from the pangs of jealousy. Is there, Unhappy?

MEN'S FASHIONS

Waterproof Golf Suit

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—The golfer who has been happily bitten by the voracious golf bug is not one who gives heed to the elements, no matter how hard they assert themselves in a watery way. He does not, if a downpour occurs at the ninth tee, issue himself a rain check, but perhaps drawing his coat or sweater closer around his neck, he drives off and pursues his ball down the wet fairway.

For such as he the jacket in the illustration is primarily intended. It is not a garment that he will frown upon, and is extremely light in weight. It can be kept in the golf bag and taken out only when the rain comes. It is made of khaki, on the outside, and lined with rubber, so that it is thoroughly waterproof. The garment comes in two models—one a coat style fastening down the front, and the other slips over the head. There is an elastic at the bottom, and around the wrists, while the neck buttons up closely or may be left open.

FASHION NOTES. I saw the following good combination the other day: A diagonally striped tie in black, red and gray, on a suit of gray with a red pin stripe. Avoid having a small tie knot in a widespread collar. A cap should not be worn with a business suit. Gray is a cooler looking color than brown, and therefore a good color for a summer suit.

The New York Times.

New York, Aug. 2.—[Special].—The outstanding characteristic of the market last week, in view of the distressing news of the death of President Harding, and in view of a further grain in the relations between France and England over the problem of German reparations, was their calmness. Irregularity prevailed in many quarters. It was true, and the midsummer lull continued in almost all lines. But even in the face of these sorrowful and disturbing events, there was little evidence of actual weakness.

The markets of the country were all closed on the day following the President's death and will close on the day of the funeral, but so far as may be judged from the quiet movement in the intervening period there is no evident apprehension over the future, either from a political or business standpoint. The financial centers of the world were shocked by the unexpected death of the President as they have not been shocked in many years, but the reactions were not of sorrow and regret, universally expressed, but rather nervous apprehension over the change of leadership. The sentiment prevails in financial, business, and banking circles that President Coolidge is well fitted to assume the burden of the nation's problems and the nation's chief executive.

Situation Abroad Disturbing.

The underlying cause of such irregularity as has developed has been the apparent inability of France and England to reach a point of accord in reparations discussions. The peace of mind of the world has been disturbed by the breakdown of the entente now looms large on the international horizon, although the fact is stressed that "the door to settlement has not been closed."

The situation abroad, no doubt, is a source of acute anxiety to the public at any time, but the fact that it has finally brought business depression to England and France, as well as complete economic disruption to Germany.

The exchanges have accurately reflected this uncertainty. The franc was especially unsettled during most of the week, and as a matter of fact sold at a "new low" for the first time since the war. It has declined to a point below $1.50 on the dollar as the fantastic and grotesque inflation goes on apace. The advance in the rebarank rate from 18 cents to 20 cents per franc, which is a last-minute effort to save the franc, has been met by the fact that the franc has been sold at a point below $1.50 on the dollar.

Overproduction in Oil Only.

The disposition in many quarters appears to be to regard present rates of operation as abnormally low. As a matter of fact, when compared with the same periods of 1922, 1921, or 1920, not only rates of industrial operations but car loadings, steel orders, department store sales, bank clearings, and other dependable barometers of trade reflect favorable current conditions. With one notable exception, that of oil, which is the only industry in which there has been no overproduction this year. Inventories have been held down to a remarkably low level.

Here and there on the horizon may be discerned beams of light along the path toward normal industrial activity which, when clear, one of them is represented in car loading returns, which last week established new high records for all time; another is moderately easy money and a banking situation in which there is no hint of strain; still another is the renewal of inquiry, on a modest scale, for first class investments, which probably the most important "straw in the wind" of all is the quickened interest evidenced by buyers in such basic materials as iron and steel, copper, wool and cotton.

Not Likely to Repeat Price Break.

It would be a fortunate prophet, indeed, who could foretell to a certainty when price readjustments will be completed. The commodities continue to lose ground moderately, but the fact that there has been no immediate overproduction and that consumption is rapid and well sustained, tends to the conclusion that autumn markets will likely not be so dull as the summer market, for instance, would lead one to believe.

Bond Offerings Total

$36,309,000 Last Week

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—Bond offerings last week totaled $36,309,000, nearly twice the amount of the previous week. The figure was the highest of any week since July 6, but the increase was not indicative of a revival of bond offerings because one item in last week's offerings was the $20,000,000 three percent, long term financing bill of the Missouri Pacific railroad, which was sold in August, in advance of maturity, totaling $20,000,000 and $4,309,000 in August and $2,300,000 in July and $4,700,000 in August.

MISSOURI PACIFIC'S JULY BUSINESS BREAKS RECORD

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 2.—The great volume of business of the Missouri Pacific railroad was recorded last month, according to an announcement made today by L. W. Baldwin, president of the railroad. A total of $7,483 cars of revenue freight were loaded over the entire system, the announcement states, and 36,094 cars were received from other roads, making a total of 112,778 cars handled during last month, or 12,835 cars more than in July, 1922.

60 Days' Gasoline Supply Is Reported by Refineries

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—The nation had a gasoline supply on hand at refineries July 1 adequate for sixty days at the June rate of consumption, as compared with a forty-nine days' supply July 1, 1922.

USING COMPOUND
INTEREST, PLAN
HOLDING FLAWS

BY SCRUTATOR.

Relying on the veracity of compound interest, Milwaukee plans to amortize her public debt by steady reinvestment of the interest from several blocks of bonds the city has placed in a fund for the purpose. It is an interesting experiment, endorsed by financiers, but the writer wonders if there isn't fallacy somewhere. The emphasis is placed on the absorbing power of compound interest to overcome the earning power of interest capital, and to overlook the preponderant factor of personal management.

More harm than good has probably been done by the circulation of those stories about the penny which deposited at the birth of Christ would now be worth a few trillions of dollars. Such calculations not only exaggerate the earning power of capital, but give a false idea of its continuity. Except for a few buildings, monuments and some ideas preserved in manuscripts, humanity has saved very little indeed over long periods of time. Sooner or later in every civilization of compound interest, when linked with taxes, is strikingly exemplified in the forestry problem. Through the courtesy of the Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers' association the writer has been given some interesting figures which show what it would cost to hold and pay taxes on land for forest growth. So far as regrowing saw timber is concerned, for this region it would take 100 years to grow wood, 100 years for beech, 100 years for yellow birch, 200 years for sugar maple, 100 years for Norway pine and 80 years for white pine.

With a land tax at 30 cents per acre, which is the present average, the investment at the end of 40 years would be, for 100 acres, $1,200. At the end of 100 years, $2,400. The figures of the same sort can be piled up for land of higher value. Even for a forty year holding, by which time some types of northern timber are big enough for pulpwood and mine timber, the investment from taxes, fire prevention and supervision, would be out of all proportion to the value of the timber that could be cut.

At the end of 100 years, on 100 acres land, the timber sold would have a value of $1,200. The investment in the land, however, would be $1,200. The investment in the land, however, would be $1,200. The investment in the land, however, would be $1,200.

If, to spite Bryan, humanity should decide to go back and live in the tree tops again, there would be room enough, 50 acres to a family. Forests occupy 100 acres to a family. Forests occupy 100 acres to a family. Forests occupy 100 acres to a family.

U. S. Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry.

J. R. G.—United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry company reported net income available for dividends of $1,022,242, or at the rate of $2.22 per share on the $458,000 of 7 percent preferred, in 1922, compared with $1,002,242, or $2.22 per share on the preferred in 1921. Surplus after preferred dividends was $127,242 in 1922, against a deficit of $49,128 in 1921. The dividends on the preferred are non-cumulative and have been paid in varying amounts, the rate for the last six years having been 6 percent per annum. There is $115,000 of common stock outstanding. No dividends have been paid on it since 1917. It was stated last June that the company probably would show better earnings this year than last. The preferred stock is of medium grade. The common is just a speculation.

South Porto Rico Sugar.

J. L. L., Rio Rico, P. R.—The South Porto Rico Sugar company recently announced a big increase in earnings this year due to the high prices now obtainable for raw sugar. It was stated that net earnings available for bond interest would approximate $1,300,000, or over seven and three-quarter times interest charges on the $6,000,000 of first collateral 7 percent bonds outstanding. These figures compare with a deficit of $88,215 for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1922. Of course, the earnings for this year must be taken as an estimate, subject to fluctuation, until the actual figures are available. The bonds are, however, well secured, and we regard them as a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

7-12 billion acres, or one fifth of the land surface. Asia and South America, with adjacent islands, have 3 billion acres each, North America has 1 1/2 billion acres, Europe and Africa 3/4 of a billion each and Australia 300,000,000 acres. Of Europe's original forest, 75 percent has been denuded, and one half of the forest area of the United States has been cleared away.

But Europe and the United States use three-fourths of all the timber consumed in the world, although they possess less than one-sixth of the forest. Three-fourths of the timber used is cut from the softwood coniferous forests of the north, where it takes longer to regrow trees. These great areas of pine, fir, spruce, hemlock and allied species have been recklessly cut for centuries, until today the best and most accessible supplies are gone.

The problem of regrowing these soft woods is a matter of getting around compound interest and taxes. Obviously in the matter of taxes the public has great advantages over the private owner. If the cut over lands are bought by the people they must be paid for, and interest must be paid on the purchase price. At the present rate of exhaustion of state and local credit for the creation of tax exempt bonds it is doubtful if ex-tensive public purchases will be possible. But certainly taxes on cut over land can be revised downward.

These bonds are a direct obligation of the State of North Dakota, for which the full faith, credit, resources and taxing power of the state are pledged for payment of principal and interest.

In addition the bonds are secured dollar for dollar by deposit of first mortgage loans on improved farms (40% value of land and 20% value of improvements) which are assigned to the State Treasurer in trust. Although the law provides a direct unlimited tax for the payment of these securities, a sinking fund is also automatically established through payment of interest and amortized principal on underlying mortgages which will be sufficient to retire the bonds at maturity.

These bonds were issued for the purpose of providing additional credit to the farmers under a plan similar to that of rural credit laws in other states and to the plan in operation under the Federal Farm Loan Act. The validity of the law under which these bonds were issued and the conditions of their issuance was approved by decision of the Supreme Court of North Dakota.

WINTER WAVES
TOWARD CHAOSFear Winter W
See Red Revolt.

BY GEORGE SELDEN

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—The political pessimism caused in Germany by the continued hopeless situation in Ruhr and aggravated somewhat by reports that President Coolidge intends to keep America's hands out of Europe, and especially off France-Germany tangle, was accentuated today by reports of an alarm increase in the unrest throughout Germany. Meanwhile the mark plus 1,000,000 for $1.

Disturbances have occurred in many places. Thus far most of the outbreaks have been spontaneous, being caused by angry crowds of jobless or hungry workers.

Communist elements have also been active in some of the riots. However, communist leaders throughout Germany have repeatedly warned workers to abstain from action, as they are convinced that world efforts are premature.

Fear Red Revolt Is Near.

Nevertheless, the communist movement is worrying the government, and there is discussion of a possible revolution when winter comes. A group claiming that France was not so complete a disintegrator as Germany's enemies believed, and that France would never permit an interventionist approach has been able to create a Rhenish revolution in the Ruhr.

In Berlin what appears to be a series of rioting Sundays has begun. It is apparent that Germany is suffering from every kind of economic and political disaster. A millionaires' today have decided to make Sunday a day of no work, no shopping, no eating, no drinking, no smoking, no playing, no anything. The result has been a series of riots in the cities, the calling out of the militia, the plundering of shops, and the continued as isolated incidents.

Police Parade Profiteers.

In Berlin, the heads of the police, in order to calm the situation among the citizenry, organized a series of raids on the city and paraded through the streets of profiteers, as well as owners of luxury restaurants, hotels and drinking champagne. The show is believed to have been the protestant temperance society and vegetable battle, the rights to the poorer districts and other cities. Some people occur through crowds to buy food which even the peasantry is refusing to buy. Prices increase. The butter brought $60,000 mark last today.

Price Madness Rages.

There is a wave of price increases throughout the country. The wheat, who are now raising in dollars and other crops, are demanding dollar prices for food products and are quoting prices in pounds and frequently in dollars and American prices. The result of the dollar movement is a recurrence of the wave of price increases. Not only are the Germans complaining of being invited and threatened in public places, and in the streets, but they are also being responsible for the heavy tolling in foreign countries. The hyenas, exploiters of the sufferings and value of the people.

Is Paper Sell for Gold?
